Bilstein introduced the very first monotube gas pressure shock absorber to the world of off-road racing. It didn't take long for Baja racers to realize the superior performance that this new technology provided and the wins started racking up.

After 40 years evolving monotube shock technology, the winning tradition continues, not only in Baja, but throughout the entire world of off-road racing. From the revolutionary Bilstein Black Hawk® 9300 Series to shocks for your chase or tow vehicle, count on Bilstein to deliver the performance you need.

After all, we've been there since the beginning.
